Progress is the law of life.

Browning

*Suns, that set, may rise again;
But if once we lose this light,
Tis with us perpetual night.*

—BENJAMIN JONSON

College students are constantly striving toward their goal—completion of a college education. As they fulfill this goal, they encounter one of life's most memorable sunsets. Looking across the horizon, they view glimpses of both successes and failures which have been recently experienced.

Since everyone is in doubt about what the future holds, it may appear that darkness is all that follows a sunset. Beyond this sunset, however, lies a dawn breaking forth a new beginning—a sunrise of challenges and glorious opportunities.

As future leaders of society, college students must look beyond their past to the bright promises within the sunrise of tomorrow.

Dedication

On every college campus there are educators who will be remembered long after the knowledge which they have imparted becomes merely a link in the long chain of life's education. Mr. Wilbur E. Weaver, to whom we dedicate this yearbook, exemplifies this type of individual. In his many years of outstanding service to Elizabethtown College, Wilbur E. Weaver has earned both the respect and admiration of students and colleagues as an educator, an administrator, and an individual.

It is not only strength of character, or breadth of interests, or natural leadership which make this man outstanding. It is also certain that he must have a passion for excellence and that he must feel a dedication to the values the college has cherished through the years. His tireless efforts and unceasing willingness to help others have enabled him to reach heights of greatness.

Thus, it is only fitting that the 1963 CONESTOGAN be proudly dedicated to Mr. Wilbur E. Weaver—administrator, educator, leader, and friend.

Performing his daily task, Mr. Wilbur Weaver distributes mail to the college students.

Progress . . .

*New occasions teach new duties,
Time makes ancient good uncouth;
They must upward still and onward,
Who would keep abreast of truth.*

—LOWELL

A gem with its many facets can be compared with the many phases of a college education. Just as the gem is the result of the integration of many facets, so also the ideal student is the result of integration of various facets of campus living—academic, social, and aesthetic. Through the efforts of students, faculty, and administration these three phases of college life are integrated in such a manner as to guide and to stimulate mental and spiritual curiosity. Faculty and administration give direction by stirring a purpose within the hearts of their students.

Sometimes it may be worthwhile to ask the question of what and who is a guide. He may appear to be the ultimate authority, but in the final analysis he is the welcomer of student ideas and contributions. The heart of a true guide possesses the desire to inspire as well as to instruct, and "if he is indeed wise, he does not bid you enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind."

Students who follow the guiding hand of these leaders combine the academic, social, and aesthetic phases of college life enabling them to move onward and upward fulfilling the duties of new occasions.

Aldus Rinehart, Carl G. Herr, and Cyrus G. Bucher.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

THE CHIEF ORGANIZED governing body of Elizabethtown College is the Board of Trustees. Each trustee plays a strikingly vital role in the formation of college policy and in the upholding of the ideals promulgated by the college founders.

The college has been and will be in the years to come highlighted by its perpetual growth and rapid adjustments. The Board will, as it has so effectively done in the past, recognize difficult situations and exert its finest concerted effort in making solutions. It also meets to fulfill duties such as determining the annual college budget—which is done at the fall meeting.

The decisions made by the trustees and the subsequent action taken are significant in the formulation and constancy of the reputation of the college. It is by these decisions that the composite view of Elizabethtown is judged.

DR. ROY E. McAULEY

DEAN

Jacob E. Hershman

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

THE COOPERATION and efficiency of the men who work with the president and other college officials enable the college to operate smoothly. These men are concerned with making important decisions and in coordinating the activities of Elizabethtown College into an effective program. They handle problems from those of the administration, faculty, and student body to the economic problems of the college.

Other members of the administration aid students by helping them plan and select their courses to meet the necessary requirements; the deans and house-parents guide the students; the librarians help them to use reference material; the cafeteria staff plans and prepares meals for the student body; the nurses guard the health of the students; and the maintenance crew takes care of the buildings and grounds. All these people contribute to the well-being of the college student and help to make his life complete.

Faculty

FACULTY—Department Heads

A SIGNIFICANT PART of the growth of our college has been due to the influx of new faculty members. The original faculty of Elizabethtown College in 1900 consisted of only three persons. Today with this year's increase of twelve new individuals more than eighty serve on the staff. Among the recent additions are Mrs. Neff who has now completed her first year as Assistant Dean of Women and director of residence at Royer Residence and Prof. Bomberger who joined us this year as head of the Department of English. Other new faculty members include Professors Campbell, Copeland, Eisenbise, Hise, McLaughlin, Poe, West, and Zaccano and Librarians Slater and Cohee.

Professors not only meet their classes, but also attend meetings, advise clubs and activities and occupy an eminent position as members of the total college family. Many of us will remember such indelible incidents as Dr. Schlosser's enthusiastic lectures, Dr. Apgar's biology labs, and Miss Engle's helpful advice in the confusion of registration.

A considerable number of faculty members are presently pursuing graduate work during the summer months. Their working for degrees which will give them professional status plus their knowledge imparted from years of experience is of great benefit to the student.

The special interests of the staff vary as widely as do its professional pursuits. Several times this year Dr. Hood performed on his bagpipes and harpsicord, while musical talent of another sort was shown by Professors Shull, Weaver, Wykoff, and Eisenbise in their participation in the Faculty Quartet. During the first semester Professor Libhart gave a demonstration on oil painting; several of his fine paintings have been exhibited on the campus at various times.

Travel is another attraction for many faculty members. The Grand Teton mountains, Mt. Ranier, and Disneyland were a few highlights of a tour through the United States which Dr. and Mrs. Apgar took last summer. Miss Eastlack, who studied in Spain in the summer of 1961, decided to remain in the United States last summer and settle for a trip to Maine. Dr. Byerly and his family will be leaving this summer to spend a year at Philipps-Universität in Marburg, Germany.

This year Dr. Byerly held the office of Chairman of the Faculty Association, a professional organization which meets once each month to discuss concerns of the faculty and encourage professional growth. Professor Armon Snowden acted as Vice-Chairman of the group and Professor Kathryn Herr served as Secretary.

It is initially these individuals, those who meet the students in the classroom, and transmit the principle of our college motto, namely, to—"Educate for Service."

Sitting in the office are Richard M. Bomberger, English, Donald R. Vosburgh, Sociology, and Edgar T. Bitting, Biology.

Sharing a joke restricted to faculty members are Irvin L. Bossler, Mathematics; R. Lee Byers, Physics; Clyde K. Nelson, History; Charles S. Apgar, Biology, and Elmer B. Hoover, Education.

Department heads posing before a faculty meeting are Robert A. Buxton, Biology; Lester C. Baum, Physical Education; R. Bruce LeLang, Language; and Noel W. Frazier, Chemistry.

Women's Auxiliary

PROVIDING SERVICES to the college that are not included in the regular budget, the Women's Auxiliary, composed of alumnae and friends of the college, contains over 1,000 members.

Previous projects of the organization include financing and furnishing a photographic room, providing portable lighting for the dramatic department and, more recently, contributing $1000 each year for five years to the Zug Memorial Library. This year the group was in charge of the unveiling of Elizabeth Myer's portrait.

The Women's Auxiliary plays an important part in the school's activities, sponsoring a Bazaar at Homecoming and providing a Punch Hour on May Day. Another of their special events is the annual luncheon, which was held on February 9.

Mrs. Clifford Hoffman, Mrs. Ruth Baldwin, and Mrs. John Hershey, officers of the Women's Auxiliary, take time out from planning coming events to pose for a picture.

A summer bazaar is being planned by Mrs. Vera Hackman, Mrs. Helen Hester, Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Mrs. Grace G. Elliott, Mrs. Sylvia S. Smith, Mrs. Margaret Cassel, Mrs. Arlene McAuley, Mrs. Hazel Hoffman, Mrs. Florence Melanson and Mrs. Ruth Gandy.

Progress . . .

Life means progress.
—Hendrik Willem Van Loon

The river flows, the seasons turn,
The sparrow and starling have no time to waste.
If men do not build
How shall they live?
Without delay, without haste . . .

In the vacant places
We will build with new bricks . . .
Where the bricks are fallen
We will build with new stone
Where the beams are rotten
We will build with new timbers
Where the word is unspoken
We will build with new speech
There is work together
A Church for all
And a job for each
Every man to his work.

On College Hill

On Campus

THE SPIRIT OF GROWTH has taken hold of Elizabethtown College. Since 1950 six major buildings have been constructed on campus and student enrollment has tripled. Included among the new additions are three new dormitories, all constructed since 1957. The two women dormitories, Elizabeth Myer Hall and the most recently constructed B. Mary Rover Residence house 130 students each, while H. K. Ober Hall, the men's dormitory, provides living facilities for 230 men. A Master Campus Plan, mapped by the trustees calls for four additional dormitories, 3 housing men and 1 housing women. The women's dormitory will be situated on East Cedar Street with the men's dormitories surrounding the present hockey field.

Two other buildings added to the campus since 1950 are the Zug Memorial Library and a new wing of the Gibble Science Hall. At the present time plans are underway for a further expansion of the library which now contains 35,000 volumes and a number of periodicals and newspapers. The expansion would mean that space will be provided for additional volumes and many more periodicals and newspapers.

Additional study areas will also be provided for the students. Already plans have been proposed for an additional wing to the Gibble Science Hall to provide more laboratory space. With a growing enrollment, it is absolutely essential that facilities be increased.

The Student Center, completed in 1962 and named for the late President-emeritus A. C. Baugher, includes a swimming pool, conference rooms, a snack bar, bowling alleys, the campus post office and radio station. This most recent structure has made many more activities available to the student body.

New infirmary headquarters and a center for musical activity have also made their debut during 1962. The infirmary houses twelve patients and three student nurses, while the music center supplies office-classrooms, and practice and storage rooms.

Each year new courses are offered which are provided to meet the requirements and demands of its students. The number of qualified students seeking admission to Elizabethtown increases continually and the college is striving to meet these changes.

The dell in winter presents a peaceful scene to those who pause in the daily rush to take notice.

An unbroken grass carpet stretches out to meet the enclosing ring of fully clothed autumn trees

Frozen and dormant delays its full beauty as the green grass and leaves of spring bloom.

Life on campus is not dormant when all else lies under winter's chill.

Sun bathers decking its noble heights, ivy-covered Alpha Hall retains the dignity of the past and the spirit of the present.

Harmonizing with the surroundings, Zug Memorial Library adds stateliness to the college campus.

Frame 115. Trees and landscaped with snow, the stately Church of the Brethren lifts its spire skyward

Heavily laden pines and delicately outlined magnolias add charm to a campus winter.

The beauty of winter on campus is enhanced by the quiet majesty of the science building and the library.

Framed by a row of dogwood trees, Myer Hall compliments this attractive scene.

The white portico and entrance hall of the newest campus residence, B Mary Royer Women's Residence, are seen in contrast to the darker hues of the autumn landscape.

Fairview Hall, a stately old dorm for women, overlooks a snowbound campus.

Tall oaks blanket the campus with their autumn leaves

The flowering branches of dogwood deck the dell with beauty

Spring sunshine filtering through trees brightens the shady drive winding to Myer.

Located at the west corner of campus and shaded by trees, the college infirmary provides a home for the nurses and facilities for the care of ailing students.

A. C. Baugher Student Center

NAMED for the late Dr. A. C. Baugher, president of the college from 1941 to 1961, the Student Center is one of two buildings completed in the fall of 1962.

The building, constructed at a cost of approximately $650,000 is situated on the eastern side of the campus and completely surrounds the old Alumni Gymnasium.

New facilities made available with this new addition include a snack bar, bowling lanes, a swimming pool, a recreation room, lounges, conference rooms, and a publications center which houses the radio studio. Among the relocated and expanded improvements are the campus post office, the book store, several administrative offices, a gymnasium-auditorium, and men's and women's locker rooms.

The Jay's Nest, student snack bar, has facilities for a complete regular short order menu. Specialty of the house is a Jayburger, a deluxe hamburger. A complete soda fountain line-up is offered, as well as special platters for commuting students' lunches.

The 50 by 70' swimming pool of regulation Junior Olympic size is heated and the bleachers encompassing the pool have enough room for 150 spectators. The pool will be used mainly by gym classes and outside groups.

A major delight to Elizabethtown students was this small Olympic pool installed in the Baugher Student Center.

Wilbur Weaver, manager, arranges textbooks on the shelves in the new college bookstore.

Several boys take time out from studying to test their skill at shuffleboard in the new gameroom.

The new bowling alleys provide an opportunity to enjoy friendly competition during leisure time.

This peaceful atmosphere in the Javis Nest is a result of long hours of planning and hard work by the dining staff.

B. Mary Royer Residence

LOCATED ON THE WEST side of the campus along Mt. Joy Street is the newest residence hall for women. A three-story brick structure of colonial architecture put into use at the beginning of the current academic term the building houses 131 women, including 81 upperclassmen and 50 freshmen.

The main lobby, facing the campus, is furnished with modern couches, benches, and chairs. The decor of blue, turquoise and white accentuates a series of majestic poles and terrazzo steps that separate the lobby from the main halls.

Each floor of the dormitory contains a pajama lounge where the girls may gather and prepare snacks. These kitchenettes are supplied with cooking equipment, refrigerator, a snack bar, stools, and a large circular lounging bench.

A spacious activity room, modernistically clad, is located on the ground floor, as is a room for laundry facilities. Both are limited to the private use of resident women.

An attractive and adequate apartment on the first floor is maintained for the use of the head of residence.

Off Campus

THE "WHITE HOUSE," or the College Avenue abode of President and Mrs. McAuley and their three children, is the frequent meeting place for many college activities.

Two other buildings located on that street are Witmer and Maple Halls which house approximately 36 men students.

The college chapel, the Church of the Brethren, works hand-in-hand with the school in guiding the spiritual life of every student. In addition to Sunday services, chapel services are held here every Wednesday and Thursday. The Reverend Nevin Zuck, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, is available to every student for the discussion of both spiritual and personal matters.

Professor McAuley's home adds distinction to College Avenue

Maple Hall, a popular residence for resident men students, is located on College Avenue

Maple Hall provides cozy living for resident men students even though the snow chills the air outside.

Cameron Estates

THE CAMERON ESTATE, which was bought by the college in 1961, was purchased to serve a vital purpose—it is to be used as a special school for individualized training of mentally retarded children.

This historic landmark, located near Maytown and several miles from our college campus, was given to James Stephenson by a land grant from William Penn in 1734. The house and land were then deeded to Dr. Nathaniel Watson by Stephenson. The estate was bought in 1872 by the first Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Abraham Lincoln: this famous man was Simon Cameron.

The well-kept gardens of the Cameron Estates add to their scenic beauty.

Progress . . .

Social progress makes the well-being of all more and more the business of each; it binds all closer and closer together in bonds from which none can escape.

—HENRY GEORGE

Gathering together around the fire causes students to reflect upon the social atmosphere of the college community. Collegiate life affords various opportunities for meaningful acquaintances with self, with others, and with experiences. All of these make vital contributions, individually and yet inseparably, to friendship. Interest in the well-being of others draws people out, draws people together, and forms bonds of attachment.

Opportunities for attachment on a college campus are innumerable. There are the "Hi's" between buildings, the unmasqueraded conversations between roommates, the rendezvous of committees, clubs, and organizations, and the discussions on the steps of buildings. Are these attachments merely inquisitiveness about the world beyond the pages of a textbook, or do students really seek a more meaningful purpose in their activities? Chances are that there is more solidity in extracurriculars than we often realize. Such experiences, rather than the passive obedience to scheduled bookishness, may cultivate a mastery of the inner self resulting in a better preparation for the reality of life. Giving themselves for service in the college community, students grow closer and closer together forming bonds of lasting friendship.

If students are observant as they sit by the fireplace, they will realize that the lasting friendship is not one which soars into high flames before it burns, but a true friendship continually glows like the embers of the fire.

Student Senate

THE SUPREME INSTRUMENT for recognizing student concerns and initiating programs to benefit the college community is comprised of members elected by the student body. These elected Senators all head committees dealing with various facets of campus life—cultural, academic, social, and athletic.

Led by President Gerald Risser, the 1962-63 Student Senate has, among other activities, revised the constitution, has sponsored several dances on campus, and has organized Homecoming and May Day activities.

Working closely with the students are the Committee of Men's Affairs and the Committee of Women's Affairs. These elected bodies are under the jurisdiction of the Student Senate and work cooperatively with the Senate in coordinating activities for the students.

Vice-President Tom Pinnel, President Gerald Risser, and Secretary-Treasurer Bonnie Guinter coordinate various Student Senate committees.

During a typical meeting members discuss future campus activities.

Committee of Women's Affairs

Members of the Committee of Women's Affairs, which directs the activities of women students, are Donna Ransom, Mary Jo McConnell, Linda Stehman, Sue Wade, Arlene Thomas, and Shirley Watters.

Terry Stoudnour, Jerry Morris, Chairman Dave Meyers, Rich Wright, Bob Bailey, and Rob Hontz meet in Ober Lounge to discuss regulations for men students.

PUBLICATIONS

Rudder

THE COLLEGE HANDBOOK, the Rudder, published each year by the Student Association of Elizabethtown College, is a little book of great help to upperclassmen and especially to freshmen as it states the policies and proceedings on our campus. The answer to any question a student may have can usually be discovered in the Rudder.

The school constitution, by-laws for men and women, the annual calendar of events, and many other important items are discussed in the Rudder.

Every student attending Elizabethtown College is responsible for knowing and following the rules and regulations found in this compact publication.

The group responsible for the 1962-63 Rudder consists of (seated) Sylvia Ingham, Faculty Advisor Miss Vera R. Hackman, Kathleen Ness, Lorraine Krall, (standing) Chairman Gordon Campbell, and Hubert Callihan.

Mr. Kenneth Bowers, advisor to the Conestogan, the Etownian, and WWEC, prepares a release on important college news.

As advisor of the ELM, Professor Henry M. Libhart offers suggestions to Anne Makowiak and Terry Road, co-editors of the ELM.

PASTE. PICTURES. PRINT. proof. patrons, pages—and people. These are things with which members of the CONESTOGAN staff are well acquainted.

As in past years, we have made an effort to preserve for you in picture and word those happy times, those cherished moments you wish never to forget. We have continued the new standard in format which was initiated last year, the first major change in this area since the yearbook was first published in 1922.

With Mr. Kenneth Bowers and Mr. James Yeingst capably assisting as advisors, the CONESTOGAN staff, headed by editor, Joann Metzler, has worked to produce a yearbook presenting progress as the law of life in a way which, we hope, will be pleasing to you, the students.

The literary staff, Anne Makowiak, Carolyn Hoffman, Diana Dibert, Margie Daubert, Deana Risser, Nancy Karlheim, Terry Road, and Margie Sue Heisey, struggle with captions for the Conestogan.

REPORTING FOR NOW and recording for posterity, again this year the Etownian has communicated effectively with students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the College.

Several new features were added to the newspaper this year. Faculty interviews acquainted us with new faces on the campus, the "Sounding Board" column gave students an opportunity to express themselves on various aspects of campus life, while another column honored outstanding athletes. The "Do You Know?" section informed us about interesting facts in the history of the institution.

Following the pattern which was set last year, a separate alumni edition was published each month this year while the semi-monthly publication of the campus edition continued as before. In cooperation with the advisor, Professor Kenneth Bowers, Editor Linda Eshelman, and her staff worked diligently to provide the college with fresh news and varied views in this most active area of campus journalism.

PROFESSIONAL

Gathered around the club bulletin board are SPSEA officers (seated) Luise Kempel, librarian; Janet Kopp, secretary; Anne Makowiak, president; (standing) Doris Weir, vice-president; Prof. Hoover, advisor; and Dennis Hartensfine, treasurer.

Student Pennsylvania State Education Association

SPSEA, the professional teachers' organization on campus, is an integral part of state and national educational associations. With over 200 Elizabethtown College members, the organization emphasizes the particulars concerning diverse facets of the teaching profession.

A Fall roller skating party and Christmas caroling at the local Crippled Children's Hospital brought more spirit into campus and community life. PSEA also sponsored a campus day for Future Teachers' of America clubs of surrounding high schools. Miss Lucy Valero, State Consultant for the organization was the honored speaker at the social tribute to senior club members at the close of the school year.

Phi Beta Chi

DESIGNED for scientifically-minded students, the Phi Beta Chi offers an opportunity for participation in extra-curricular science projects.

Monthly club meetings include in their programs informal discussions of scientific problems. Guest speakers, motion pictures, and student demonstrations have also added variety to the gatherings.

Society for the Advancement of Management

THE SOCIETY for the Advancement of Management, or SAM, provides, for students interested in business, a look at the problems and methods of the Madison Avenue set.

Dr. Harold Fisher, head of the Lancaster branch of the organization, spoke at the first meeting which was held at the home of President McAuley. Other guests who spoke to the ninety-member club were Mr. Edward Aff from the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, Mr. Irving Yaverbaum of the State Board of Accounting, and Mr. Arthur Fleming from the Personnel Department of the Armstrong Cork Company.

A field trip to Pomeroy's, a department store in Harrisburg, gave SAM members a behind-the-scenes look at department store life. The different qualities of goods and the processes involved in selling were discussed.

Psychology Club

CREATED for the purpose of stimulating and advancing the study of the science of Psychology, this club is open to all interested students who have completed an introductory course in Psychology.

This year's program featured field trips to mental hospitals among which was the Donegal Spring School for retarded children. Guest speakers inform the members about special phases of Psychology, while individual research in psychological studies is encouraged.

MUSICAL

Concert Choir

ELIZABETHTOWN COLLEGE is proud of its College Concert Choir, consisting of forty selected voices directed by Professor David P. Willoughby.

The Concert Choir, accompanied by Miss Betty Markley presents a fine show of secular and sacred music on many different occasions. In December, in conjunction with four other choirs, it presented a part of the world's most popular oratorio, The Messiah by G. F. Handel.

During the second semester, the group provided a series of performances for high schools and churches throughout Pennsylvania.

Within the choir, vocal ensembles have also been formed. The Dufay Singers consists of both male and female voices which supplement the programs of the Concert Choir. Other groups include the Ladies' Ensemble, the Men's Quartet, and the Ladies' Trio.

Edward Beardslee serves as president of the choir. Jack Neibert as manager, Nancy Jo Buckwalter as secretary-treasurer, and Kay Campbell and Richard Lytle as representatives.

Women's Chorus

WITH A MEMBERSHIP of approximately sixty-five, the Women's Chorus provides an opportunity for any interested co-ed to take an active part in singing light, secular music. At the weekly meetings, the chorus, accompanied by student pianist, Gregory Bachman, and directed by Professor David P. Willoughby, rehearse various classical numbers and several Broadway hits.

Twice during the year this organization presented vocal entertainment in the form of concerts, one in February and the other in May.

Women's Chorus rehearses a difficult number for its spring concert.

Chapel choir members attend a weekly rehearsal in preparation for the following day's chapel service.

Chapel Choir

STEADILY INCREASING in size each year the Chapel Choir, a combination of male and female voices, now consists of more than forty members. The organization is directed by Dr. Carl N. Shull and is accompanied by Greg Bachman, a freshman.

Providing sacred music for each Wednesday morning chapel service, this fine group of voices also presents vocal soloists on different occasions.

A practice session held one hour every week yields, in addition to angelic auditory stimuli, one credit per year to each participant.

Band

PROVIDING Elizabethtown College with inspiration and entertainment for various school functions throughout the year, the concert band performs at home soccer games, where combined talents yield a background of enthusiasm for the student body.

In addition to the regular band, there is a brass ensemble and a clarinet quartet, the former of which played at the Christmas Music Concert, a Senate-sponsored chapel program, and the latter which displayed its notable abilities at the winter concert. The concert band also participated in special events such as the Spring Concert and May Day.

Posing in one of the new practice rooms in West Hall is Prof. David P. Willoughby, director of the college band.

The Concert Band, under the direction of Prof. Willoughby, presents its winter concert.

DRAMATIC

Dramatic Workshop

PROVIDING OPPORTUNITIES to learn the mechanics of play production and to observe professional performances, the Dramatic Workshop attempts to explain fundamental theatrical techniques both on and off stage. The procedures studied range from scenery and props to make-up and acting.

Members of the Dramatic Workshop, under the leadership of Debbie Jones, work hand-in-hand with members of Sock and Buskin in presenting their productions. The success of these performances depend upon the capabilities of both organizations.

Points toward Sock and Buskin membership are earned by participating in the activities of the Dramatic Workshop.

Sock and Buskin

CULTIVATING THESPIAN TALENTS. Sock and Buskin provides the vital stimulus necessary for encouraging a dramatic response. Directed by Mrs. Mildred H. Enterline, this honorary organization casts plays, sponsors Broadway trips, and attends professional performances.

Preparatory to entering this group, students display their talents in the Dramatic Workshop to obtain points through participation in plays and on committees to advance toward membership in Sock and Buskin.

Officers Stan Delp, treasurer; Mary Ann Pommier, secretary; Nancy Kauffman, historian; Doris Weir, president; and Ralph Clouber, vice-president, conduct a meeting of Sock and Buskin members - Lisa Emer, Neil Cunningham, Ed Worden, Margie Hollinger, Larry Sauder, John Mummert, Dave Ferrell, Diana Dibert, Debbie Jones, Linda Logan, and Elizabeth Hershberger.

LANGUAGE

German Club

CREATING A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING of the language and customs of the German people is the goal set forth by the German Club, under the direction of its advisors Dr. and Mrs. Fredrick Neumann and Mrs. George Shumberger. The monthly meetings, in which everyone takes an active part, are conducted to a large degree in that tongue.

Connie Nissley, president of the Club, adds much to developing an appropriate atmosphere by describing her experiences while living in Germany.

Highlights of the year include a German Christmas Party and a visit to the German Church in Steepleton.

French Club

JOINING THE FRENCH CLUB to broaden their cultural and intellectual outlooks, students exercise their linguistic talents in many modes at the bi-monthly meetings. In addition to conversing and singing in the language, time is also spent developing fluency through listening to French recordings.

Guided by its advisor, Mrs. Kathryn Herr, and its officers: Ann Makowiak, President, Janet Jones, Vice-President, and Virginia Rudy, Secretary-Treasurer, the group directs its interest into channels of profitable intellectual expansion by reviewing plays, obtaining interesting guest speakers, and holding diverse discussions concerning France and her people.

ATHLETIC

Varsity E

AN HONORARY service organization, the Varsity E Club this year was headed by President, Galen Lehman; Vice President, Fred Seltzer; Secretary, Linda Eshelman; and Treasurer, Anne Sharpe.

Originated in 1951 by Ira R. Herr, this honor society is for male and female athletes who hold varsity letters. One of the group's main objectives is to enhance the sports program of the College.

Again this year the club sold programs and operated a refreshment stand at athletic events, in addition to selling mums on Homecoming Day. At the close of the year the best male and female Senior athletes were chosen and club members accepted their jackets or blazers.

Carolyn Moyer, secretary-treasurer, Sue Wood, president, and Dot Hess, vice-president, planned and guided the activities of WAA.

Women's Athletic Association

INTERESTED WOMEN STUDENTS expressing a desire to participate in women's athletics can become members of W. A. A. The Women's Athletic Association is open to all girls who wish to participate in the intramural program.

Among the intramural sports offered are swimming, volleyball, basketball, and bowling. At the end of the year, the dormitory team accumulating the most points was awarded a trophy.

SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP and service are the criteria upon which Junior and Senior men are judged for admission into Abraxes, the Men's Honor Society that recognizes and encourages superior achievement in academic areas.

The organization sponsors a program which invites outstanding alumni to speak on their various academic specialties. On March 29 Ernest Lefever, a graduate of Elizabethtown College and Yale Divinity School, spoke on his particular field, that of foreign relations and policy, and was at that time made an honorary member of the club.

Elizabethtown College Christian Association

HOLDING A SPECIAL PLACE in college life, religion through informal conversations and intimate encounters with persons from various religious backgrounds helps students in their quest for a mature concept of faith. They find that a dynamic faith can go along with a sound and effective education.

Besides the weekly non-sectarian worship services and vespers in the women's dormitories for the more than 25 denominations represented among students, other religious organizations include the E.C.C.A., L.S.A., B.S.C.M., and Eta Gamma Kappa are active on our college campus.

E.C.C.A., the Elizabethtown College Christian Association, is the largest student Christian association at Elizabethtown. Serving as the intercollegiate Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., it helps students to better understand and relate their faith to problems in college life. Worship, films, discussions, and fellowship encourage all interested students to become members, and a variety of speakers assist in keeping the students attentive. Rabbi Nathan Bark, S. Kendrick Lshleman, M.D., faculty members, and Amish and Mormon speakers were among this year's outstanding participants.

The student deputation program which sends groups of students out to local churches for programs recruits its student personnel from the E.C.C.A. membership.

Lutheran students have an opportunity to meet once a month at the Christ Lutheran Church in Elizabethtown. Highlights of the Lutheran Student Association included the spaghetti "get-acquainted" meeting, slides on India, and conferences.

The E-town branch of this association played host to the annual L.S.A. Conference for the Gettysburg area, while in late winter its members attended the Annual North Atlantic Regional Conference at Buckhill Falls.

The Brethren Student Christian Movement is another monthly organization on our campus that affords occasion for study and fellowship. Brethren students participate in meetings and retreats, and are informed on district, regional, and national youth events. Nine of the members attended the annual B.S.C.M. National Conference that was held in Kansas during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Members of Eta Gamma Kappa, the organization for preministerial students take part in local church programs and meet for discussions of theological matters.

Harvey, an imaginary six-foot rabbit, causes Drs. Sanderson and Chumley to question the sanity of Mrs. Chumley.

Margie Hollinger and Vic Moore enjoy a private joke backstage during a performance.

A PULITZER PRIZE-WINNING play by Mary Chase, "Harvey" materialized as the Homecoming play in October.

Happy in his cottontailed hallucinations, Elwood P. Dowd is relatively oblivious to the fact that his imaginary companion causes such chaos in the lives of the society-conscious members of his family. Striving for social acceptance, Veta, Dowd's sister discovers an invisible rabbit can be quite an apparent menace to high society. In a psychiatric consultation to reveal the root of Elwood's hare, Veta succeeds merely in complicating complexes and mystifying M. D.'s.

Knitted with needles of humor and imagination, the situation comedy was adorned by the following people who played leading roles: Ronald Mummert, Marjorie Hollinger, Deana Risser, Linda Eshelman, Ralph Clouser.

Dr. Sanderson listens patiently to Elwood P. Dowd's description of his imaginary companion, Harvey.

Linda Eshelman, a nurse in a mental institution, reviews the medical records of Elwood P. Dowd.

A scene from "The Builders," the first semester traveling play, is acted by Doug Schonour, Betty Wenger, and Merle Black, grandson of Mrs. A. C. Baugher.

Merle Black interestedly watches Dot Hess prepare for a performance of "The Builders."

Cast members of the second semester traveling play present a scene from "Between Two Thieves."

COLLEGE BROADCASTING

WGAL-Television

FOR THE PAST EIGHT YEARS, Elizabethtown College has been sponsoring college level courses of one credit each on WGAL-TV, the local television station. This year Professor Henry M. Libhart taught a General Linguistics course for one half hour every week. Next year Art Appreciation will be offered.

These televised courses are intended primarily for the student who is unable, for various reasons, to attend regular classes. Textbooks are purchased and a fee for the course is paid by the student. Weekly assignments are completed and mailed to the college, and tests are given on campus.

Behind the cameras are found two individuals of special importance in instigating this medium of education. Mr. James Yeingst and Mr. Kenneth Bowers.

A WGAL-TV cameraman cooperates with Elizabethtown College in making College of the Air possible.

Mr. Ken Bowers, radio broadcast director, broadcasts a program in cooperation with a staff member of WEZN.

WEZN-Radio

IN COLLABORATION with WEZN, the Elizabethtown broadcasting station, the college conveys important campus news and coming events to the public.

Fiske Martin, a senior student and part-time disc jockey for the station assists in broadcasting some of the campus athletic events. Two news and general information programs are presented on a regular basis throughout the year. Musical presentations by the College Choir, debates, discussions, and interviews are also heard at various times.

WEZN clearly serves as a valuable liaison between the college and the public.

DEBATING

Eta Phi Sigma

Eta Phi Sigma members for this year include Melly Moerschbacher, Linda Hirst, Sondra Eisenbise, Elizabeth Hershberger, and Advisor Prof. J. E. Riley; (second row) Richard Hartman, Francis Moquin, and Phil Bufithis.

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Prof. Jobie E. Riley, Eta Phi Sigma this year initiated a "Forensic Festival" held February 27 and 28. Students participating in the areas of interpretative reading, debate, extemporaneous speaking, and discussion were judged in their respective categories to determine the representative to be sent to statewide contest in Philadelphia.

As a newly conceived organization on campus, Eta Phi Sigma looks hopefully to future membership in Tau Kappa Alpha, a national forensic honor society requiring academic superiority, outstanding oratory, and a sincere interest in the aspirations of forensics.

Mrs. Betty DeVitry, affirmative, debates with Glen Wenger, negative, on whether "Elizabethtown College should adopt an honor system to curb academic dishonesty on campus."

Jeanne Jacoby, another member of the affirmative team, presents her side as Glen Wenger organizes his rebuttal.

Gertrude Miller won the oratorical contest with her discussion on mercy killing.

Joyce Symanski makes a point in her oratory, "You Could Become a Dope Addict!"

CULTURAL

Dr. Carl N. Shull, chairman of the Lyceum Committee, leads a discussion of coming programs with Prof. Henry M. Libhart, Richard Becker, Prof. James L. M. Yeingst, and Dr. Henry G. Hood.

Lyceum Committee

THROUGH ITS CULTURAL programs the college tries to develop an enlightened and refined sense of taste in its students and to help them appreciate the finer arts.

The Lyceum Committee, which arranges the cultural calendar, selects prominent representatives of the artistic and academic disciplines. Consisting of faculty, administration, and students, the organization is headed by Dr. Carl M. Shull, chairman.

This year, the Committee presented, among others, the Curtis String Quartet, Dr. Jesse Brown lecturing on the Dead Sea Scrolls, and the Honorable R. S. Garfield Todd speaking on his specialty, African affairs.

First in a series of Community Cultural Programs, presented by the College in cooperation with the Patton School, was Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," which was given in November by the Cleveland Play House. In March the Vienna Choir Boys presented the second Community Cultural program.

Dr. Walter C. Hearn, biochemist at Iowa State University, discusses chemical structure of pigments after his lecture "Pigments and Figments" sponsored by Phi Beta Chi.

Unusual lighting effects turn characters in the Cleveland Playhouse presentation of "The Importance of Being Earnest" into "Ivory statues."

The Curtis String Quartet presented the first of the cultural programs arranged for the students by the Lyceum Committee.

The Vienna Choir Boys, the world's most beautiful choir, presents a concert in the College Community Program.

Special Events

MAY DAY . . . May 12, 1962

Brenda E. Craddock

Queen of the May

The charming class representatives in the May Court of 1962 are Elaine Showalter, Jean Zarco, Barbara Galt, Ruth Ann Geiselman, Brenda Craddock, Lois Herr, Jan Bauser, Sandra Young, and Susan Wade.

MAJESTICALLY REIGNING over her Scottish-seasoned spring celebration, May Queen Brenda Craddock, crowned by her predecessor Ruth Risser Price, led the annual May Day activities in a flurry of events that commenced with the coronation in the dell and ended with a gala Music Festival. After the enthronement, the queen received from the class presidents her traditional gifts—a garland, a globe, a footstool, and a scepter.

Entertainment for the royal court provided a spot of the Scotch for spectators, including a co-ed May Pole Dance, a Scottish Drill Team, and Elizabethtown's recently formed pipers band. A modern dance version of "The Heather on the Hill" from "Brigadoon" plus a Scottish ditty "Comin' Thru the Rye" were two more major attractions at this 16th yearly event.

The Scottish lads pause before piping the lassies to their glory.

ALUMNI DAY 1962 witnessed, among other noteworthy events, the honorary recognition of one of Elizabethtown's most diligent, devoted and indefatigable faculty personalities, Dr. Ralph W. Schlosser. A vital, active member of the college, the professor has been associated with E. C. since 1905 when he first trod the halls of Alpha as a student. Reminiscing over the intervening 57 years of his education as both student and professor, Dr. Schlosser was a firsthand observer of the tremulous changes that transpired as Elizabethtown College emerged from a one building, activity-less, conservative shell into its present ever developing state.

For a fourteen year period, the Doctor presided as president of this institution; however, his heart remained true to teaching, and the completion of his term witnessed the return of the pedagogue to his preferred profession. The students' welfare always a major concern, Dr. Schlosser, an English instructor with a fondness for Shakespearean, indicated his opinion of a liberal education as being one which necessitates idea-diverse professors as well as varied courses.

The college owes much to this man of many merits, who received his most deserved "President-Emeritus" title during the 1962 return of Alumni.

DEDICATION

Royer Residence

A NEW DORMITORY, first occupied and called X Residence this fall, was dedicated on October 20, 1962 as a part of the Homecoming Day program. On Saturday afternoon, Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College, presided over the dedication proceedings which were held in front of the new building. Dr. Joseph W. Kettering, chairman of the College's Board of Trustees, had the honor of announcing the official name of the dormitory—Royer Residence.

Miss B. Mary Royer, after whom the dormitory was named, resided in Richland, Va. and graduated from Elizabethtown College in 1921. This serious-minded Lebanon County woman went to India from 1913 to 1947, where, for thirty-four years she served as a missionary. Her absence was deeply felt in December of 1951 when her life of giving came to an end. It was in remembrance and honor of this industrious humanitarian that our dormitory was so named.

On Homecoming Day, President McAuley accepted the keys of the new women's dormitory, B. Mary Royer Residence.

Representing the student body, Gerald Risser, president of the Student Senate, received the keys to the new Student Center

Baughter Student Center

THE DEDICATION of the A. C. Baughter Student Center, held on Sunday, November 18, 1962, at 3:30 p.m., consisted of the naming of the building and unveiling of the late Dr. Baughter's portrait, the latter of which was presided over by Dr. Joseph W. Kettering, chairman of the board of trustees. Leading the dedication ceremony was President Roy E. McAuley with Paul Dick, chairman of the Student Union Board, leading the litany services.

The facilities made available by the Center include a book store, college post office, gymnasium, offices, lounges, a publications center, a radio station, a swimming pool, a snack bar, bowling lanes, and conference rooms.

The official opening of the building took place Sunday, November 4, with a ribbon cutting ceremony which was followed by an open house. Some parts of the Student Center had been used on a restricted basis since the beginning of the fall semester.

Homecoming Queen

SWARMING WITH SCHEMING SAILORS and determined Indians, the battle-worn shores of Lake Placid once again witnessed the annual Freshmen-Sophomore Siege of E. C.

As the first chords of combat echoed over the area, victory was secured by the upperclassmen whose voracious appetite proved no obstacle in the pie-eating contest. Attack after attack, the sophomore fort remained impregnable and the sea-weary freshmen sadly surrendered to their undefeatable conquerors in boat racing, cheering, and finally in the traditional Tug of War.

Autumn Leaves, the Friday night Homecoming formal, was an undisputed success presided over by the 1962 Queen Joyce Diehl, and her captivating court consisting of Louise Brown, Marjorie Hollinger, Diana Miller, Barbara Burg, Louise Wenger, Lynne Benham, and Donna Ransom. Held this year at the Scottish Rites Cathedral in Harrisburg, the Alumni Dance floated upon musical clouds created by the 19-piece orchestra of Bob Aulenbach.

Athletic activities supplementing the Saturday pandemonium abounded, with the Jaygals rendering the Dickinson girls' hockey team inadequate 3-1, and the soccer team out-hining their East Stroudsburg opponents 2-0; bypassed by Millersville, however, the cross country boys were outrun 35-21.

Remaining attractions of the day included the debut of the new Jay's Nest in the Student Center, in addition to the dedication of the new women's dormitory, Royer Residence, in a ceremony officiated over by President Roy E. McAuley.

Bringing a comical close to an exciting, dramatic, and multi-climatical Homecoming, "Harvey" was presented before a receptive Saturday night audience in the Elizabethtown High School. Cast with a host of familiar E-town thespians, the play brought down the final curtain on an action-packed weekend production.

The attractive Homecoming Court representatives posing in front of a background of autumn foliage are Louise Wenger, Lynne Benham, Diana Miller, Donna Ransom, Queen Joyce Diehl, Margie Hollinger, Louise Brown and Barbara Burg

The Frosh pulled the ropes hard, but the Sophs won the tug of war at the lake.

The brains and brawn of the upperclassmen work together to pull the Frosh at Lake Florida.

It looks like they're making progress, but what happens when the barrel gets wet?

In the furor of defending their goal, the Jaygals keep their sticks swinging.

A round of applause for the 1962 Homecoming Queen as she received her roses.

The Jays came through with a Homecoming victory over East Stroudsburg.

The Jaygals work hard to keep the ball.

Homecoming Queen, Joyce Diehl, and her escort, Dale Good, begin the Queen's Dance.

Will it be a goal for the Jays?

AWARDS

Doris Weir and Margie Hollinger admire their Activities E pins.

Activities E

AWARDED TO STUDENTS participating in the extramural program of the college, the Activities "E" is a symbol of achievement, loyalty, and service. Individuals having notably succeeded in Music, Political Science, Religious Activities, Publications, Dramatics, or Forensics and having received two certificates from the specific organization are eligible for the award.

The Activities "E" is given to the student the year he accumulates the required number of certificates. An engraved key is awarded to those having two certificates in an organization, and an unengraved key is given to the ones with a combination.

PORTRAIT PRESENTATIONS

A. C. Baugher

DURING THE DEDICATION program of the A. C. Baugher Student Center on November 18, a special program was held in which a portrait of the late Dr. Baugher, president of the college from 1941 to 1961, was unveiled by Dr. Joseph W. Kettering, chairman of the board of trustees.

The portrait now adorns the main lounge of the first floor in the Student Center. It serves as an acknowledgment of the deep devotion and dedication that Dr. Baugher had for this college and for the unlimited hours that he labored in striving to attain the high standards that Elizabethtown now possesses.

The portrait of Elizabeth Myer was unveiled by two of her direct descendants, Christine Elizabeth Shank, a great-great-grandniece and by Mrs. Leah Myer Glasmire, a niece.

Elizabeth M. Myer

AN UNVEILING CEREMONY of the portrait of Elizabeth Myer, the first dean of women of Elizabethtown College, was held on December 1 in the lounge of the dormitory bearing her name. This portrait, painted by Florence Starr Taylor, Lancaster, was a gift from Miss Myer's family.

Miss Ethel M. B. Wenger, president emerita of the Women's Auxiliary of the College, was in charge of the service.

Presented by Samuel Myer, nephew of Elizabeth Myer, the portrait was accepted by Dr. Roy E. McAuley, President of the college. Doris Weir, president of the dormitory council expressed student appreciation of the gift. Dr. Schlosser presented the highlights of Miss Myer's life, and Prof. E. G. Meyer led in the singing of her favorite hymns.

Student Life

Isn't it wonderful to have such a nice place to spend those free minutes?

Student Center

THE A. C. BAUGHER Student Center has at last become a reality. An ideal gathering place for students who wish to engage in social, cultural, intellectual, or recreational activities, this most recent E-town ediface has created a new outlook in many students' minds.

In addition to providing many opportunities for the development of leadership, the building also promotes relaxation in the form of a swimming pool, bowling alleys, gymnasium, and recreational rooms.

With its store, post office, and snack bar, the Student Center duplicates an efficient miniature shopping center. Everything the student needs is within his reach.

The campus radio station and publications center guarantee that the student will be well informed on collegiate, national, and international events.

The Student Center seeks to contribute to the total educational development of each individual student at Elizabethtown College.

High school students compete in the District Three swim meet held in our new swimming pool.

Those combination locks can be stubborn, can't they? Picking up a package is much easier.

The pingpong facilities in the gameroom provide recreation for those between-classes breaks.

Students discover that the College Bookstore is well-stocked.

Radio

Mr. Kenneth Bowers meets with the WWEC radio station committee to discuss problems in programming. The members present were Richard Lytle, Mark Miller, Jim Steger, Phil Reese, and Dave Martin.

WWEC

THIS YEAR marks the beginning of a new mode of communication on the campus of Elizabethtown College. The new radio station, which opened second semester, seems to be a promising undertaking for everyone.

The listening audience receives first-hand accounts of campus activities, enjoys entertainment in the form of good music and gains a broader perspective of situations discussed on various debate programs.

With Mr. Kenneth Bowers as their advisor, Mark Miller, Station Manager; Phil Reese, Assistant Station Manager; David Martin, Production Manager; Mike Macalka, Business Manager; Martin Heilman, Chief Engineer; Richard Lytle, News Director; and Chester Rose, Record Librarian; are gaining not only enjoyment, but also valuable experience in management and public relations.

Mark Miller and Jim Steger assemble Linde wiring equipment in the radio station.

The finished equipment is put into operation by Dave Martin as he spins records for campus enjoyment.

Commuter Life

In the main lounge of the Student Center, Greg Bachman takes a few minutes to practice while Bill Stewart reviews the assignment for his next class.

All of those parked cars can mean only one thing—commuters—and the large building in the background is BSC, the commuters' "home away from home."

Lunchtime at the Jay's Nest gives many commuting students an opportunity to catch up on the latest campus gossip.

Dormitory Life

Co-eds relax after classes in the recreation room of Royer Residence.

Many students take on an extra load by volunteering to keep our dormitories attractive. Here Helene Meyer vacuums the lounge in Myer Hall.

Is this what you call studying, girls?

Taking a break from their studies, Royer co-eds enjoy coffee in one of the pajama lounges.

The lounges provide an ideal place for a discussion of the material for tomorrow's test.

Do I really have to go to my 7 40 class?

The big campus fad knitting gives the girls a quiet excuse to get together for a chat.

Campus Life

Ziping around the college lake on ice skates provides much relaxation and fun for after school activity.

The long cafeteria line at mealtime can be frustrating for both diners and servers.

The Christmas spirit invades the campus as two coeds take advantage of the holiday refreshments provided at the Yule Bowl.

A campus hazard during the winter is snowball battles. But are they using snow or mud?

Strolling through heaps and heaps of snow is a favorite winter pastime.

Three coeds, Nellie Rigel, Janice Hall, and Joann Metzler, find the dell a relaxing place to study.

Registration

Patience is a universal virtue—especially at registration time.

Orientation

Wear your drink with dignity?

An unforgettable part of Freshmen Orientation was participation in field day

Social

A CONTRIBUTING FACTOR to the social success of the college this year is the new Student Center. Co-ed bowling and swimming are two entirely new activities offered on campus for the first time this year.

Sadie Hawkins Weekend in November was climaxed by the first student dance to be held in the new building.

Brinser Lecture Hall substituted as our movie theatre on Friday nights with "The Great Imposter" and "Imitation of Life" being two of the most recent films shown this year.

Special dances held this year were the Beatnik Dance in December and the February Valentine Dance, although frequent record hops with guest disc jockeys were also held Saturday nights in the Student Center Auditorium.

The Christmas Dance, the first to be held in the new Student Center, gets into full swing to the music of Stan Fields Orchestra.

Nothing quite like a fast dance to relieve tensions.

Record hops in the gymnasium provide entertainment and an opportunity for socializing during the weekends.

Intramurals

Looks like a strike, but then it could be a gutter ball

Warming up for a game, Gil Rinehart smashes a serve across the net.

There is a lot of heated competition between this year's intramural volleyball teams.

Intramurals are a good way to work off some of that excess energy acquired through an overdose of studying.

Ober Hall guys are anxious for a hard-and-fast game.

Three men get a good start in swimming intramurals.

Spiritual Life

INHERENT IN THE PHILOSOPHY of Elizabethtown College are the ideas that a clean body and a clean mind are basic requirements of the Christian life, and that knowledge and Christian character together form genuine culture. All of our activities are subordinated to our basic task—our search for Truth. Our Christian ethics require that the knowledge acquired out of the mind's love of God's truth be treated as a trust to be used for the good of all.

Therefore, our college, a church-related institution and in every aspect of its program a Christian institution, provides us with various programs and services which are helpful in channeling our ambitions.

An integral part of our campus spiritual life this year, as in former years, was the weekly Chapel service, while a time and place for quiet prayer and meditation was provided each week-day night in Rider Chapel. Women boarding students experience another opportunity for spiritual reflection at weekly dormitory vesper meetings.

Dr. Robert A. Byerly, director of religious activities, chats with Dr. Nevin H. Zuck, pastor of the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren and college pastor.

A group of students are shown on their way to the weekly chapel service.

Members of one of the college's deputation teams leave for a nearby church where they will present the morning worship service.

The spiritual side of our lives can be enriched by personal conferences with religious leaders.

Summer students, Sue Hamm, Dave Martin, and Henry Koser, prepare to leave campus for a weekend conference at Buskull Falls.

Academic Life

Student Teaching

Instructing the student teachers in what will be expected of them with their new responsibilities is Prof. E. B. Hoover, director of student teaching.

Student teacher Shirley Watters takes over her class by putting some of her pupils to work at the board with tricky math problems.

Intent signs an English lesson. The student teachers, Joan Morrow and her class seem unaware of Professor Hoover and the supervising teacher, Mrs. Bucher.

Summer School

Dr. Vosburgh performs his administrative duties as director of summer session.

THE INCREASING summer school enrollment shows that many students are taking advantage of the opportunity of summer education.

Approximately three hundred students are in attendance at each of the five-week sessions, with classes being held six days a week. A maximum of six hours credit may be taken each session in any of the courses offered in all fields including the Liberal Arts, science, math, religion, education, and business.

Summer school is of great value to the student who wishes to accelerate, to those who must make up deficiencies, and to in-service teachers who wish to continue their education. Elizabethtown offers courses to incoming freshmen as well as to students from other colleges.

Much of the success of the summer school program offered at Elizabethtown can be credited to its director, Dr. Donald R. Vosburgh, whose time and efforts have greatly contributed to the increasing popularity of tropical travel.

Mr. Walter W. Winkler demonstrates a reading machine to the workshop in developmental reading directed by Mrs.

Miss Ethel M. B. Wenger, workshop director, instructs her class in special education.

Dr. Roy E. McAuley, Dean of the Pennsylvania School of Alcohol Studies, entertains participants in the course, "Alcohol Problems in Modern Society."

This study group discusses human problems relating to the use of alcoholic beverages.

Research and Study

Studious collegians find the library a welcome source of information and a convenient refuge for uninterrupted study.

Anticipating the bell, all appear to be eager students.

Patience is a necessary virtue!

African Program

AN AWAKENING GIANT. Africa today presents a great challenge to the free world. For many Africans higher education is the touchstone of their development. Our college has recently responded to the call of this country, currently stirring with powerful nationalistic movements.

The Elizabethtown College African Program was initiated by the College through a grant from the Hershey Chocolate Corporation. The late Dr. A. C. Baugher, president emeritus of our college, was the director of the program until his death, November 2, 1962.

In August, twenty-seven teachers experienced a week of orientation here on our campus prior to leaving for posts in various African countries. Nine of these teachers were part of E.C.A.P. which operates in cooperation with the African-American Institute.

So, while we have witnessed a great degree of physical growth on our campus, the African Program testifies to additional growth in public relations, a vital area in which we have progressed even to the international level.

The men in charge of last summer's E.C.A.P. training program were Mr. Harry Heintzen, representative of the African-American Institute, Dr. A. C. Baugher, Mr. Samuel Hinkle, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Hershey Chocolate Corporation, Dr. Francis Barnes, psychiatrist; and an African-American Institute representative

Theodore Chung-Moan Lo came to the United States from Kowloon, Hong Kong, B. C. C., in time to begin the fall semester here at Elizabethtown. Theodore plans to attend graduate school for completion of his education in the medical sciences. From a deep interest in classical music, Theodore plays the piano and sings in the College Concert Choir. He comments, "Elizabethtown College has a nice campus and close faculty-student connections. I like it; Americans are friendly people. . . ."

Christel Fischer looks through a Conestogan to help her become acquainted with Elizabethtown College. An exchange student from Jugenheim University in Germany, she arrived in America on June 13 to attend summer sessions and the fall semester. Christel took many literature courses and plans to teach English in the elementary grades.

Jonathan Okechuku Mbonu's home is in Eastern Region, Nigeria, Africa. Before returning to Africa to take an appointment with the Public Service Department, Jonathan will do graduate work in political science. Eventually, he would like to enter the field of active politics. The friendliness of the students, the faculty, the people of America in general, and the development of Christian life have made a lasting impression on Jonathan.

George Apondo, from Kenya, East Africa, is now a junior at Elizabethtown College. George, majoring in the pre-medical sciences, plans to go back to his country upon the completion of his education. Despite the large amount of snow we had this winter George has not become accustomed to it and finds it almost impossible to describe when writing home. George comments, "The sincere friendliness of the students is amazing and very helpful in making adjustments."

Commencement

At winter commencement Dr. Ralph W. Schlosser delivers a citation on the late Dr. N. Franklin Stump.

COMMENCEMENT is the first step to a new life and career as well as the culmination of a college education. The degrees which are granted symbolize the years of study and preparation for chosen careers and professions. They stand for the challenges that have been met in the past four years as well as the challenges that will be met in the future.

The mid-winter commencement was held on February 6 in the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren. Dr. Fred E. Bryan, Superintendent of Schools in Harrisburg, delivered the commencement address, "The Challenge of Change." A citation to the late Dr. N. Franklin Stump was read by Dr. R. W. Schlosser. Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the college, conferred twenty bachelor degrees to qualified candidates.

At the Spring graduation, which was held on June 2, degrees were awarded to approximately 125 seniors. Walter Judd, former congressman and expert on foreign affairs, spoke at the combined Baccalaureate and Commencement Program, which was held in the auditorium of the Elizabethtown Area High School.

Progress . . .

*Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way;
But to act, that each to-morrow
Find us farther than to-day.*

—LONGFELLOW

The spirit of the student body is probably most prevalent as students sit on the sidelines cheering their team onward. The success of a college athletic team involves more than individual effort. While individual effort is vital, it is useless without the cooperative effort of everyone—the athletes, the coaches, the cheerleaders, the spectators.

In teamwork participants experience the subjugation of self-interest to a group goal. Participation is a stirring experience which involves becoming completely lost in activity as all energies and skills are focused on the outcome until the last play is won and the last point made. In addition to the endowment of the game, many lessons can be learned by the sweat of the brow which may have rewards equal to those earned by the high brow. The athletic field may be one of the greatest teachers of lessons in social perception and understanding of others. Players learn that good sportsmanship practiced in athletic contests also has a deep meaning in daily living.

Teamwork, then, is more than the efforts of individuals, but behind this animated zeal and competitive urge lies the necessary complement of mental development—the give and take which provides a beneficial balance between individualism and cooperation. This much-needed force of unity will act in a manner to insure “that each to-morrow find us farther than to-day.”

The trophy symbolizes excellence in achievement. Here Lester C. Baum (left), director of athletics, congratulates Fred Seitzer, senior athlete, for his display of sportsmanship on the athletic field.

Progress . . .

The human mind always makes progress, but it is a progress in spirals.

—MADAME DE STAEL

The academic milestone of a college education seems very obscure to a freshman as he embarks upon the means to his goal. During underclassmen days, a student may frequently gaze beyond his studies and inquire of himself, "Why am I here?"

This question is a valid one for a student to ask of himself while spending so much time in an atmosphere with a removed view of the world. Resulting guilt feelings may stem from a student's failure to grasp the wholeness of the situation. His callow ambition grows restless, and he feels he is doing nothing above making an academic record for himself. He becomes frustrated by trying to make distinctions between direct and indirect service in academic life.

Perhaps if he would examine the abstract meaning and realize that he is preparing for service, he would take a less elementary view of the element of time and would be motivated to become learned rather than schooled. The human mind attains an academic milestone by adding new knowledge to the foundation of past experience. Building upon this knowledge, he finds himself developing a broader vision of the world enabling him to move upward and outward intellectually in a spiral pattern.

Since an increased knowledge of problems is demanded in our progressive world, one cannot be too well prepared. Even though many things are beyond man's reason, a student should never end the searching. Weeds must be uprooted and seeds must be planted. For these are the days upon which new days will build.

To an Academic Milestone

Freshman class officers are Charlotte Breeden, treasurer; Joseph Deardorff, vice president; Janice Foote, secretary; and Gary Moore, president.

Freshmen

SEPTEMBER 16, 1962
Elizabethtown College

We, the class of 1966, had just arrived. This was our first encounter with college life, and it proved to be both frustrating and funny.

Almost before we had accustomed ourselves to the campus and the collegiate atmosphere, we found ourselves buttoning our dinks to upperclassmen, carrying trays in the dining hall, bowing to members of the Student Senate, and detouring the "Sacred Paths" forbidden to freshmen. Those of us who were unfortunate enough to be caught performing unsatisfactorily paid for our crimes on Freshman Night. The Kangaroo Court sentenced Gail Fortson to wearing a name sign three times the normal size and Neil Brown to shadow-boxing in front of Myer Hall. Others of our class distinguished themselves by leading cheers, rolling eggs, proposing marriage, and transporting water from Lake Placida. A Field Day of games and relay races, entertainment by the faculty, and a record hop climaxed our first week at E-town College and our hazing. We were now full-fledged college students.

Homecoming Day brought the freshmen out to the tug-of-war with high hopes. Our navy-girls cheered hard, and our boys did their best, but the sophomores and their year of experience were too much for us. Barbara Burg and Louise Wenger represented our class in the Homecoming Court.

By this time, we had become accustomed to the rigors of the scholastic routine. Professors, outside readings, and research papers no longer frightened us and we discover many new and varied talents among our classmates. In the field of sports our class boasted freshmen in almost every line-up. Dramatics and musical organizations, religious and forensic activities, and every other phase of extra-curricular life saw freshmen participating vigorously in the campus organization.

First semester ended and second semester was upon us almost before we expected it. This meant, first of all, the Freshmen-Sophomore Dance at the Harrisburg Civic Club; then elections for class officers and May Court representatives, Sondra Eisenbide and Susan Evoy; more studying; finals; and the end of our freshman year at Elizabethtown.

Altogether, we, the class of 1966, feel that our first year of college has been a rich and rewarding experience. We look forward to equally successful future years.

"I'm a dunce. I'm a dunce. I'm a dunce from Delaware."

Egg rolling is difficult, isn't it?

Who says our frosh aren't physically fit?

Ralph Engle, vice-president and acting president in absence of Jeff Young, Treasurer Carol Ashton, and Secretary Carolyn Moyer, meet to discuss plans for future class activities.

Sophomores

APPROACHING THE UNEXPLORED seas of our sophomore year, the class of 1965 reflected on the pains and pleasures encountered in its preceding perilous journey through the land of the "Frosh." The first of four great adventures was behind us as we sailed forth into the new horizons and unknown destinies awaiting our arrival into the straits of Elizabethtown.

Victorious in the annual Homecoming joust, we carried off honors in every event from cheering to the traditional tug-of-war, and proudly contributed to the Homecoming Court. Lynn Benham and Louise Brown.

In the influential realm of politics, our class officers were Jeff Young, president; Ralph Engle, vice-president; Carolyn Moyer, secretary; and Carol Ashton, treasurer. Vocalizing sophomore sentiments in the senate was Robert Guthrie, while the Committees on Men's and Women's Affairs were sophomorically assisted by Mary Jo McConnell, Connie Nissley, Arlene Thomas, David Myers, and Rob Hontz.

Joan Delp, Rosann Pownall, and Bill Cave added to the sweet sounds of the Dufay Singers, with Jane Moyer, Martha Laudermilch, Arlene Thomas, Carolyn Moyer, and Elizabeth Hershberger contributing their vocal abilities to the Ladies' Ensemble.

Excelling in all areas of athletics, outstanding sportsmen representing us in basketball were Larry Wyles, Dan Reitmeyer, and Larry Evans; in soccer —Tony McGlauglin, Henry Pownall, Dave Myers, John Suffel and Tom Speakman; in wrestling—Bob Wolfe. Enthusiastically cheering the teams on to victory were Louise Brown, Carol Ashton, varsity cheerleaders; and Sharon Sullivan, Jane Moyer, and Eileen Taylor, junior varsity. Championing the female role on the hockey field were sophomores Janet Esbenshade, Rose Baldwin, and Nancy Woolford; on the basketball court our cause was advanced by Carolyn Moyer and Dot Hess.

Scattered throughout the various campus publications, our literary agents were led by Terry Road, co-editor of the ELM, Judith Ullery, associate editor of the Etownian, and Henry List, photography editor of the Conestogan.

In the diplomatic field of foreign affairs, the college was represented in Mexico by Sophomores Gene Hartman and Ken Light during the 1962-63 school year. Following in their adventuresome footsteps for a future junior year in Japan and Mexico were Judith Ullery and Terry Road, respectively.

Drifting into the dusk of a second eventful voyage, our sophomoreic encounter with education glided into a frivolous finale—May Day. Judy Hart and Lynn Benham were our spring maids who gaily decked the dell with boughs of frivolity, and nostalgically ushered out an unforgettable era for the class of 1965.

Believe it or not, there are times when we study.

A chat in the warm spring sunshine is always relaxing after a day of classes.

The officers of the Junior Class are Bob Whittlinger, President; Anne Sharpe, Treasurer; Esther Strehle, Secretary; and Bill Bentz, Vice-President.

Juniors

MANY PEOPLE, working quietly and efficiently behind the scenes, must do their job well before an airplane can take off safely to fly to unforeseen destinations. So it is with a college and with a particular class within that college. So it was with the Class of 1964.

As a member of the personnel in the control tower guiding the total college life was Tom Pinnell acting as vice-president of the Student Association while Bonnie Guinter recorded the flight plans as secretary-treasurer. Other members of the Senate included Dennis Hartenstine, Jack Neibert, and Ann Sharpe. Jeff Bensing, Richard Long, and Richard Wright served on the Committee of Men's Affairs; Sue Wade served as chairman of the Committee of Women's Affairs.

Not all personnel may serve at the very top; yet all are very necessary to the total operation. In the communications division, many juniors were active. The station manager of WWEC was Mark Miller. Many served as Etownian reporters, others were active on the Conestogan staff. On the yearbook Anne Makowiak served as junior class editor and Ed Holle as business manager. Anne was also editor of the ELM. In programming, the use of BSC was in part regulated by Bob Witlinger, vice-president of the board. Lillian Harris, Larry Kozubal, Susanne Markey, Gil Rinchart, Sue Wade, and Nancy Winger.

Festival days were marked by special activity. Lovely Margie Hollinger and Diana Miller were chosen to represent the class on the Homecoming Court, and Diana Miller and Esther Strehle were members of the queen's court on May Day. In honor of the seniors who had helped pave the way for them, the juniors gave a dinner dance at the Host Motel, Lancaster. Bill Bentz, Anne Sharpe, and Bob Wilson were instrumental in planning this affair.

With any successfully functioning group success in the physical aspects is necessary, and here the junior class excelled. Al Hershey attained All-American honors on the soccer field. He and Jeff Bensing were two of the three co-captains of the team. Mike Stehman, Jerry Griner, and John Neiley had positions as captains respectively of cross country, wrestling, and basketball. The women were not to be left out as Sylvia Ingham, Molly Moore, and Peggy Jackson started in the hockey line-up; and Anne Sharpe, co-captain, and Susanne Markey played varsity basketball. Cheerleaders Diana Miller, Rose Murry, Sue Wade, and Bonnie Hancher, captain, led the yells of encouragement. Anne Sharpe served the Varsity E Club as its treasurer.

So the junior class has laid the groundwork well and arrived at the point in another year when the flight into another year may be begun.

IN THE FALL OF 1959 the members of the Class of 1963 were welcomed to Elizabethtown College by two days of freshman placement tests. Following a week of orientation we somehow survived four days of official initiation by our favorite FIC members—Zettlemoyer, Higginbotham, Schlickemaier, Barsumian, and Bonier. Later in the year the class was honored at the Crystal Ball given by the sophomore class at the Hotel Brunswick in Lancaster. To prove that our class had become a part of the college we provided the entertainment for the last all-college picnic held at Hershey Park.

Our sophomore year was rather uneventful for we discovered that we would have to buckle down to studying if we expected to get our degrees. Near the beginning of the second semester the Class of 1963 played host to the Class of 1964 at a dance at the Hotel Yorktowne in York. We lost a number of our classmates and friends at the end of our sophomore year because of the graduation of the two-year secretarial and medical secretarial students.

Returning to Elizabethtown as juniors we suddenly discovered that finally we were upperclassmen. This year marked a great stride among class members toward obtaining recognition on as well as off campus. We began filling important spots in the student government, publications, dramatics, and athletics. We still enjoyed doing things as a class, however, and in November we went to Hershey for a spaghetti dinner at De Angelis' and an ice hockey game at the arena. As the end of the year arrived the Class of 1963 honored the Class of 1962 at the annual Junior-Senior Dinner Dance at the Hotel Yorktowne in York.

Then—will wonders never cease?—our senior year had arrived! At last we were in the year of student teaching, electives, job hunting, and graduation. By this time the Class of 1963 had contributed a large number of people to important phases of campus life. Sue Bucher spent the year studying in Germany while Wilbur Gible returned to Elizabethtown for his senior year.

In the campus government Gerald Risser served as president of the Student Senate while Susan Wood, Nancy Karlheim, Ralph Clouser, and William Gould worked as senators. Representing the class on the Committees of Men's and Women's Affairs were Robert Bailey, Jerry Morris, Gerald Cobaugh, Donna Ransom, Shirley Watters, and Mary Zug.

With the opening of the Baugher Student Center much work was required for plans, schedules, and general organization. Paul Dick very capably took charge of this as president of the Student Center Board, and Molly Moerschbacher acted as secretary-treasurer.

Taking charge of the student publications were Linda Eshelman, editor of the Etoumian, and Joann Metzler, editor of the Conestogan. The first broadcasting of WWEC was made possible through the efforts of Philip Reese, Richard Lytle, Martin Heilman, and Chester Rose, members of the Radio Committee.

Campus organizations claimed a large amount of the spare time of senior class members. William Stewart was president of ECCA. Abraxes officers were Paul Dick, president; William Gould, vice-president; and David Elliott, secretary-treasurer. Officers of Sigma Lambda Sigma were Nancy Karlheim, president; Linda Eshelman, vice-president; and Joann Metzler, secretary-treasurer. Molly Moerschbacher, Edward Beardslee, and Roger Cubbage were presidents of Eta Phi Sigma, the College Concert Choir, and Political Science Club respectively.

Heading S. A. M. were William Clarke, president; Leroy Bear, vice-president; Susan Wood, secretary; and Pericles Sicoutris, treasurer; while Sock and Buskin officers were Doris Weir, president; Ralph Clouser, vice-president; and Nancy Kauffman, historian. Senior officers of Student PSEA were Doris Weir, vice-president, and Janet Kopp, secretary.

In the field of sports Galen Lehman was president of the Varsity E Club with Linda Eshelman as secretary. Representing our class in the various sports were Fred Seltzer and Gerald Botdorf in soccer; Galen Lehman in wrestling; Robert Deitrich, Gerald Botdorf, Fred Seltzer, and John Graham in baseball; Wilbur Gible in cross country; and Hubert Callihan in tennis. In women's sports Linda Eshelman and Susan Wood played field hockey, tennis, and basketball. Molly Moerschbacher played field hockey and tennis, and Kathryn MacGregor played basketball. There was quite a bit of excitement when Linda Eshelman was chosen to play on the All-American Women's Field Hockey Team in the fall.

Important parts of our last year on the Elizabethtown College campus were the dance given by the junior class in our honor at the Host Motel in Lancaster, and May Day. Linda Eshelman reigned as May Queen; and the senior representatives on her court were Donna Ransom, maid of honor; Janice Hall and Mary Zug. The day of activities was ended by the Sock and Buskin presentation of the play Spring Dance.

The last function of the Class of 1963 before graduation was the Senior Dinner Dance, which was held at the Chalet Restaurant near Dillsburg with music provided by a part of Bob Aulenbach's orchestra.

Graduation weekend was a flurry of activity and a mixture of emotions as we looked toward the future while remembering the progress and fond memories of the past four years.

Some helpful advice for future reference perhaps?

"Come on, fellas, it's time for a break."

In Memoriam

Dr. A. C. Baugher was many things to Elizabethtown College. Among his measurable contributions were the more than 45 years of time and devotion he offered as a student, professor, dean, president, and president emeritus. But he also gave strength, guidance, leadership, and dedicated friendship that will forever remain immeasurable. His last and possibly most far-reaching effort was the development of the Teachers for West Africa Program with which he strove to aid Elizabethtown College in helping the world. On November 2, 1962, Dr. Baugher died unexpectedly, but not without having made an indelible impression on those who knew him, as well as many who did not. Dr. Baugher was a great man. Elizabethtown College will miss him.
